The Professional's Paint Since 1922

Leyland voted in by West Lothian Council

Leading paint brand Leyland Trade has added a vibrant splash of colour to a set of refurbished offices at West Lothian Council after securing its status as a preferred supplier.

Contractor: West Lothian Council

Task: Offices within the council's administration department recently underwent an extensive renovation programme, which saw them knocked through to create a modern, vibrant office space. The colour scheme was suggested by the Council's internal design team.

Product: Leyland won the tender with flying colours and the Council had no reservation in using Vinyl Matt Emulsion on the walls and Eggshell on the woodwork in the new and improved office space. Leyland Vinyl Matt Emulsion offers a smooth and hardwearing finish to provide a top quality, durable finish for interior walls and ceilings, while providing superior opacity and covering imperfections giving a first class finish. Leyland Eggshell offers a superior, mid-sheen and hardwearing paint that makes it the perfect choice for woodwork in offices. It offers excellent sag resistance, and as it requires no undercoat, it's a breeze to apply!

Background: A competitive tender process for the contract took place before the work commenced which saw Leyland outperform its rivals following a string of tests carried out by independent local authority painters.

Blind tests were carried out with various leading paint brands in unmarked tins and a score was given to each product based on performance, ease of use and opacity.

Painting supervisor Duncan Sinnet said:

“We were absolutely thrilled with the product and would have absolutely no qualms in using it again.”
